

EVENING BULLETIN.

FRIDAY EVENING, MARCH 27, 1887.

B. Barker will be assisted in the collecting of debts due the Bulletin by J. M. and A. Gray east of Third street. It is to be hoped all persons indebted will be ready to settle their bills when presented, and not compel the collectors to call two or three times for the small amounts due.

LAND WARRANTS.—The Commissioner of the General Land Office claims that, where the price of land is raised by bidding, a land warrant cannot legally be laid; consequently all those warrants laid on such land (and the excess paid in money) must be taken up, and the money paid instead, viz: one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre. The decision will tend to reduce the value of land warrants.

YELLOW FEVER ON BOARD THE MERRIMAC.—We learn from a letter received by a gentleman in Charlestown from his son, on board the frigate Merrimac, that there had been thirty cases of yellow fever among the crew of that vessel, five of which were fatal, Purser McBlair, whose death was mentioned a few days since, being one of the victims.

THE VARIETIES.

A Great Wool Grower.—The Manchester Mirror says that Mr. Abraham Melvin, of Weare, New Hampshire, recently sold 25,000 lbs. of Spanish Merino wool, to parties in Boston, for 60 cents a pound, amounting to $15,000. The wool was of his own raising and part of a three years' stock.

Cousins.—The Gloucester Telegraph says that, at a wedding which took place in that town on Sunday evening last, there were sixty-two cousins present.

The following oath is said to have been administered in the Iowa Legislature to a little boy ten years of age, chosen to fold up documents:

You do solemnly swear to support the Constitution of the United States and of this State, and to fold papers to the best of your ability, so help you God.

The Legislature of Maine have passed a general banking law, providing for the reincorporation of sixty-five of the banks now in operation. The new law does away with the special charter feature of the banking system, reducing the whole to one code; whereby banks must make monthly statements for publication instead of semi-annually. Their circulation is limited to fifty per cent. beyond their capital; they are required to keep on hand only five per cent. of their capital in specie.

The street cleaning contracts in New York city have, half of them, been awarded to an individual, who is to use the patent street sweeping machines, dispensing entirely with hand labor. The space that would require thirty-four men, with one inspector and two superintendents, and costing $400 per week, it is claimed, can be cleaned, and kept clean, with one machine, aided by six carts, for less than $150.

Death of a Navy Officer.—Capt. P. C. We derstrand, late of the United States Navy, died at New Orleans on the night of the 12th inst., aged 78 years. He was the second student entered at Georgetown College, D. C., Judge Gatson, of N. C., having been the first. He received his warrant as Midshipman in 1797, and was attached to the Constellation, and continued in the service until 1810. He removed to Louisiana (from Maryland, where he was born) in 1818, and has resided in the State ever since.

The Short Tree.—According to Humboldt there is a tree in the South Sea Islands which produces ready-made shirts. The natives cut off pieces of the tree about two feet long, from which they draw off the fibrous bark, as boys draw off the bark of chestnuts to make whistles. Each man selects a tree near his own dwelling, so that the shirt may be a good fit. When the bark is off, they cut a hole in each side to admit the arms. The shirts do not require any washing, starching, and ironing, and a more convenient article for loafers could not be imagined. The same country produces bread fruit, so that a fellow may get his board and clothes gratis.

American Travelers Attacked by Bedouins.—Dr. I. B. Hank, of Baltimore, I. A. Lehman, of Philadelphia, and Hyam Joseph, of California, left Jerusalem on the 26th of January last for Cairo, and on the 2d of February encamped in the vicinity of a large number of Bedouins of Wada Musa, who frightened the dragoman by their exorbitant demands. The Americans finally commenced negotiations with the principal Sheikh, who demanded eight hundred piasters. This was not paid, and the Arabs became so violent that the Americans drew their pistols and held them at bay. Finally the Americans retired to their tents and the Arabs withdrew, but unexpectedly returned and commenced firing upon the tent. Dr. Hank was slightly wounded on the knee and breast, and George, the cook, in the hip severely. In the end, the Americans, to save themselves, were compelled to hand over to the robbers nearly two thousand piasters. They then set out on their journey and reached Hebron on the 9th of February.

Becky Birchbud thinks it provoking for a woman, who has been working all day mending her husband's old coat, to find a love letter from another woman in the pocket.—Er.

Perfect nonsense. There is not a woman under heaven but would find the letter before she began to mend the coat—then it would not be mended at all.—Boston Post.

A married lady, who was in the habit of spending most of her time in the society of her neighbors, happened one day to be taken ill, and sent her husband in great haste for a physician. The husband ran a short distance and then returned, exclaiming, "My dear, where shall I find you when I get back?"

French Undulating Railroad.—A railroad is proposed to be constructed near Lyons, France, on steep gradients, with a view to avoid deep cuttings and embankments or tunnels, and to test a new system of carriage invented by M. Bourget, civil engineer, for working it. A break placed under the carriage holds on to a third rail when the train stops, but when in motion the part which seizes on the rail opens by the effect of the onward movement, and closes with great force the moment the train ceases to go forward.

A Fat Salary.—The pay of the collector of this port, for the first quarter in 1887, was 92 cents. That is one of the offices to which the rotation principle might be applied without much damage to anybody but the person who was rotated in.

Mrs. Cochran, daughter of Gen. Schuyler, of Revolutionary fame, and whose husband was a physician in the American army, and a favorite with Washington, has been awarded ten thousand dollars by Congress—a just, though limited, recognition of the patriotic services of her relative. The old lady resides at Oswego, N. Y.

The Mystery Solved.—Reynolds, the dramatist, observing the thinness of the house at one of his pieces, said: "I suppose it is owing to the war?" "No," was the reply, "it is owing to the piece."

A Bishop for Phalaris.—A funny story is told of the way in which even archbishops may be embarrassed by the amplitude of the female fashions of the day. A letter from Milan says that the Archbishop of Milan, meeting the Empress of Austria on the staircase of the Duomo, by some unlucky accident became so entangled in her majesty's drapery as to be extricated only by tearing away some curls of the empress's tresses, to the immense diversion of the young and august victim, whose smiles at last lapsing in downright laughter, increased the embarrassment of the venerable prelate.

MANSLAUGHTER BY AN AMERICAN PHOTOGRAPHER.—A singular case of manslaughter is reported in the London Morning Star of March 3, substantially as follows: It appears that a woman named Eliza Bunn, forty years of age, in company with another woman, called at the rooms of Alexander Hemmet Clark, an American photographic artist, to have a little boy's likeness taken. After it was finished, some words ensued respecting the payment of the cash. Clark ordered the women to leave the room, which they declined to do without the portrait, when a regular fight ensued between them. Clark at the time had a small hammer in his right hand, and while deceased was struggling with him he struck her with it upon the head. He was first arrested for the assault merely, for he was fined twenty shillings and costs, but it afterwards appeared that the wound with the hammer had fractured the skull of the woman, of which wound she died in a day or two. Clark was then arrested on the charge of manslaughter.

EXPENSES OF RELIGION.—We find in one of our exchanges a very curious calculation, based upon the statistics of the last United States census, showing the relative expense to each individual member of the different churches in maintaining his church. The estimate shows the relative cost as follows: A Baptist or Methodist three dollars and forty cents, a Presbyterian seven dollars, a Congregationalist ten dollars, a Roman Catholic fourteen dollars, an Episcopalian eighteen dollars, a Reformed Dutch twenty-two dollars, a Unitarian twenty-three dollars.

MAIL ROBBER CAUGHT.—Finley, the fellow who robbed the mail at Aberdeen, Ark., has been caught. No money was found about his person when arrested, though he was observed to have a fifty dollar bill on the morning after the robbery and previous to his leaving. When overtaken, he was about crossing the river, and it is believed he threw all the money he had into the water.

A young lady about eighteen years of age, the daughter of Mr. John Conrad, was so severely burned on the 18th inst., while boiling syrup in a sugar-camp near Corydon, that her life is despaired of.

The residence of Mrs. McIntyre, near Lanesville, Harrison county, Ind., was entirely destroyed by fire on the 17th inst., and Mrs. M. was seriously burned in attempting to save her property.

THE WHEAT CROP.
MEADE CO., KY., March 24, '87.

MESSENGERS. Noticing in various papers a partial failure of the wheat crop in many of the wheat growing States, induces me to say something of the prospect with us. Owing to the severe drouth last fall, our farmers did not commence sowing until very late, consequently the wheat did not take sufficient root to withstand the severity of the winter and frequent freezings and thawings of the spring; and during this month we have had but little or no rain and our fields that were quite green in February are now almost as bare of wheat and as dusty as the public roads. Some have but little prospect of raising over half a crop.

The scarcity of corn and severe winter have killed a large number of our stock hogs, and I fear our hog crop will be shorter than that of '86. Hoping to hear better reports from other parts of our State, I remain yours, &c.,

DEATH IN THE GREEN ROOM.—On Saturday evening, while one of the largest and most brilliant audiences ever seen in America was enjoying the splendid performance of Linda di Chamouni in the Philadelphia Academy of Music, there was a scene of startling contrast behind the curtain. A very worthy member of the female chorus, whose services, from her long experience, were very valuable, died suddenly in the green room, just as the opera was about to begin, of disease of the heart. It was a shocking and solemn incident, and created a great deal of agitation among the performers, especially among the chorists, who had so long been associated with her and accustomed to follow her directions in the performances.

It was sometime before the singers could recover their composure sufficiently to enable them to go on. But the vast audience before the curtain knew nothing of the sad tragedy that had occurred, and it was not deemed advisable to inform them of it. There was a delay of ten or fifteen minutes in the commencement of the performance, but then the curtain rose, and the Swiss Villagers appeared, smiling and gay in their rustic costume, and no one thought that within a few yards of them lay the corpse of one of their number, arrayed like them in the bright dress of the canon. The prima donna and all forced down the emotions that the tragedy excited, and went through with their parts with apparent composure. The audience were more than usually enthusiastic and gay. Cheers and bravos greeted the prima donna, and bright bouquets were showered at her feet. To the few who had heard of the grim intrusion of the King of Terrors into the temple of mirth and festivity, the scene before the curtain had in it something of the awful. It is not often that a festival and a funeral scene are brought into such close contact.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

MURDER IN WARRICK COUNTY.—The examination in reference to the murder committed in Warrick county, on the evening of the 24th, is proceeding at Boonville, before Justice Brown. The facts developed are as follows: McClintock, the deceased, was sitting with his family at his residence, near Boonville, on the evening referred to, and for some reason went to the door, and while standing there, was shot in the right side. Eight rifle balls penetrated his side, discharged probably from a musket. McClintock turned to enter his dwelling, and fell dead. Three men, Minnie Johnson, Tension, and one whose name we did not learn, have been arrested. The evidence against them is not conclusive of their guilt. The bullets taken from the body of the deceased had been hammered in order to prevent their recognition, and all the circumstances attending the killing prove that it was a premeditated murder.—Evansville Journal.

The large ribbon and millinery house of John Devin & Co., Chambers street, New York, failed on Saturday. Their liabilities are stated at $250,000. The loss will fall heavily on French importers.

BOERHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS

DYSPEPSIA,
DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND

FEVER AND AGUE,
And the various affections consequent upon a disordered STOMACH OR LIVER.

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, and all the various affections of the Nervous, Biliary, and Urinary Systems, it has in numerous instances, proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a truly vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Because of its great success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of the disease, and quickens every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

NOTICE.—Whoever expects to find this beverage will be disappointed; but to the sick, weak, and low spirited it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

CAUTION.
The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all other beverages.

HOW IS IT?
EVERYBODY wants one of TROXEL'S beautiful AM-BROTYPES? Some months ago the different hum-bugs gotten up by artists to deceive the public attracted considerable attention, but now they have ascertained how easily it is to be humbugged even by a name, as all other pictures made on glass in Louisville except at TROXEL'S Gallery are not hermetically sealed, not so beautiful, and liable to fade.
Citizens and strangers are particularly invited to call before going elsewhere.
Instructions given in the art for $20.
Also, rights for sale in Kentucky.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—Friday, March 27.—Wm. Clark is a Hoosier of the simplest and clearest verandcy, who came to the city yesterday and invested his loose change in a bottle of whisky, with which he was found in the upper part of town. Discharged.
Ed. Johnson, for stealing a lot of carpenter's tools from Lewis Zweidoff and Jeremiah Hollinghaus. Case continued until to-morrow.

John and George Gibson and W. Cunningham were charged with stealing several pieces of casting from Bunn & Lacy's planing-mill. The Judge, after administering a very severe reprimand, discharged them. An old man named McLaughlin, who keeps a second-hand hardware establishment, was presented to the court for having purchased the iron knowing it to be stolen. He was held to bail in $200 to be of good behavior.
Walker West, all the way from Stamping Ground, Scott county, had passed a $1 counterfeit note on a man named Yarborough. Other bills of the same character were found upon him. Required to give bail in $400 to appear at the circuit court.

We are indebted to Adams's Express for New Orleans, St. Louis, and Evansville papers.
The Sinking of the Grapeshot.—It appears that it was not the J. H. Oglesby which sunk the Grapeshot, but the Gov. Powell. The collision occurred about 6 o'clock, between the bend of the river and Portland, and was evidently caused by a misunderstanding of the signals given by the pilots. The Powell ran into the larboard side of the Grapeshot, making a large hole in her, but her officers succeeded in running her up on the Kentucky bank. The water is over her cabin floor and over her larboard guard forward, but the starboard side of her bow is lying up on the bank and dry. As the river is falling, she will soon be left dry, and can then be repaired and launched. Some of the cotton on the deck of the Grapeshot floated off. She was from Memphis bound to Pittsburgh, and the following is a list of her cargo:

Per Grapeshot from Memphis 24 bales cotton, Robbin & Pomeroy, Chicago; 20 do, Massey & Br. Baltimore; 3 coils line and lot of Jones & Cooley, Pittsburgh; 418 bbls. cotton, Kennedy, Childs & Co. 37 do do, Merrick & Co. 3 bbls. glassware, J. B. Lyon & Co. Pittsburgh; 1 box books, Webb, Gill & LeVerning, Louisville; 1 trunk, T. P. James, Bismarck.

The river has commenced falling, but up to noon to-day it had only receded an inch or two.
The Empress.—This elegant and fast steamer, commanded by Capt. Sturgeon, arrived before day this morning. To her attentive clerks we are indebted for favors. The Empress will leave positively this evening.
Our friend Palacio, captain of the Empire, has also our thanks for favors. The Empire will also leave this evening.
The Chancellor has also arrived, and the Baltic will certainly be here this evening. Both leave for New Orleans to-morrow evening.
The Diamond has arrived, and the John Gault will be here to-night. The Diamond will leave for Owensboro to-morrow evening.

The St. Louis News of Thursday evening says: Messrs. Eads & Nelson yesterday dispatched one of their sub-marines to the wreck of the steamer Belfast, sunk in the Mississippi river a few days since. These gentlemen also sent yesterday the sub-marine No. 8 to the wreck of the steamer Amazon, sunk a short distance up the Missouri river. About the time of starting, they received another dispatch from Memphis, requesting them to send one of their boats down there for the purpose of pumping out the A. L. Shotwell, sunk in Chute 40, in the Mississippi (Hen and Chickens). Most of the cargo of the Shotwell, it is thought, will be saved.

EVENING BULLETIN.

THE NEW YORK MARRIAGE CASE—It is now known.—This case, which has occasioned much attention, has been decided in favor of Dean, the husband. It will be seen from the following that the young couple intend to take up their residence in this city. Judge Davies, of the supreme court of New York, before whom the case was heard, remarked in substance in giving his decision:

Judge Davies, in delivering the decision of the court, said that he considered it due to the parties and to the public to state that he considered it his duty to have several interviews with the young lady in order to satisfy himself whether she had been restrained of her liberty; that in these interviews she had uniformly stated to him that she was not that man was her own free choice, and she had married him of her own free will; that he had found her a young lady of delicate demeanor, who was actuated by a double duty toward her parents and to the husband she had chosen for herself. Having satisfied himself that neither force nor fraud had been used in the contract, and that the duty of the judge to say that it is binding upon her, as neither force nor fraud had been practiced. An order must be entered dissolving the injunction.

AFTER THE LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.
Immediately after the judge had rendered his decision, and before the adjournment of the court, Dean's friends gathered around him to offer their congratulations. The rush towards him was so great that with difficulty he kept his feet. He remained, at last, to retreat to the corner of the room near the judge's bench, when Judge Davies took him by the hand and tendered his compliments. The crowd all wanted to do likewise, and such was their eagerness that poor Dean was pushed out of the court room. He evidently felt frightened, and sped down stairs to the street, the crowd at his heels cheering him lustily. He was chased over to Centre street, and the side of a building, and with great effort he broke through the mob and ran through Chambers street, towards Broadway. At this juncture he was seized by Judge Davies, who, having received his standing by, entered himself, and the two were driven off, the crowd in their wake yelling like Indians.

They stopped at the judge's residence a short time, when Dean proceeded to the house of Mr. Spencer, his counsel. In twenty-fourth street, to await the hour when his wife should be delivered to him.

Early in the evening Mr. Henry Berthoff, deputy sheriff, presented himself to Mr. Barker, with the order of the court for the delivery of Mrs. Dean to the custody of her lawful husband, which Mr. Barker agreed to do at eight o'clock in the evening.

Meanwhile several hundred persons had collected around Mr. Barker's house, anxious to see the noted bride. At the appointed hour, Berthoff reappeared for the lady, and after much trouble in getting her through the crowd, out of the carriage, and extraordinary exertions on the part of Berthoff, the driver, in dodging through cross streets to escape the curiosity hunters, he was safely conveyed to her residence, No. 8 Jones street, where shortly afterward she was joined by her husband and Mr. Spencer.

Here an interview in presence of Mr. Berthoff and his family and Mr. Spencer was had between the husband and his wife. Dean was anxious that an adjournment should take place to the Metropolitan Hotel, the bridal chamber of which had been made ready for the bride and groom. But Mrs. Dean objected, as she had faithfully engaged to return to her mother that night. Much other conversation occurred as to their future prospects and manner of living. Mr. Berthoff asked the lady if she fully realized the hardships which her new position would entail upon her, etc. How would she like to get up at 5 o'clock in the morning to get ready for the day? After a while Mr. Spencer suggested that the young couple would probably like a private conversation before they separated for the night, one should be accorded. The suggestion was accepted, and they were left to their own devices.

Later, Mrs. Dean was escorted to her father's house by Mr. Berthoff, and her husband left for his home.

It is the intention of the pair to start early for Louisville, Ky., where Dean has a brother-in-law in business, and where he also hopes to live in happiness with his bride.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

At a meeting of gentlemen connected with the Tobacco Trade of Louisville, held at the Pickwick Tobacco Warehouse on the morning of the 25th of March, 1887, Eldridge Applegate was called to the chair, and C. McMoran acted as secretary. The following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, it has pleased an All-wise Divine Providence to remove from our midst Harrison Bridges, Esq., long connected with the tobacco trade of this city, and who was an active, faithful, and honored member; therefore, while we deplore the loss of a neighbor and friend, we cannot realize too deeply the heavy loss which the business community of the West has sustained in the death of one so peculiarly fitted for discharging the important trusts committed to his charge. Therefore—

Resolved, That the death of Harrison Bridges, Esq., the community has lost a valued servant, his friends a companion, his family a worthy and respected husband and father.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the widow, family, and friends of our deceased companion in the loss they have sustained as husband, parent, and friend.

Resolved, That copies of the above preamble and resolutions be presented to the family of the deceased; and be further—

Resolved, That we will proceed in a body to the residence of our departed friend, and accompany the remains to their final resting place. Also—

Resolved, That the above resolutions be published in the city papers.

ELISHA APPLIGATE, Chairman.
C. McMORAN, Secretary.

The Surrogate of New York has granted the application of the public administrator to sell the furniture of Dr. Burdell remaining at No. 31 Bond st. As to the alleged interest by Mrs. Cunningham and her daughter in the temporary use of this furniture till the 1st of next May, he referred them for remedy to the courts of law.

Gen. Sanford, counsel for the contestants of the will of Jas. Turner, the former circus proprietor of this city, yesterday, stated on behalf of the contestants that they would pursue the contest no further. The Surrogate thereupon ordered that the will be admitted to probate at once, and letters testamentary granted to the executor. The latter estate—some $60,000—thus goes into the possession of Mr. Levi J. North, the partner of Mr. Turner at the time of his death, and his sole legatee.—N. Y. Times.

SHOOTING AND PROBABLE KILLING ON THE LEVEE.—A difficulty occurred last evening about seven o'clock, on the levee, near the steamer Republic, in which a deck-hand was shot in the hand and abdomen by the mate of that steamer. We understand the cause of the difficulty was a dispute of the mate and some other officers of the boat with the deckhands, about their wages. The latter felt outraged, and, as they were leaving the boat, used very abusive language toward the officers. The mate followed them, and after they had got out on the levee he stood upon the staging and fired a pistol into the crowd. The ball took effect as stated above. After the occurrence the hands and their friends mustered on the levee and threatened the boat with a mob, but did not make any positive demonstrations. The mate's name is French Louis.—St. Louis Democrat.

Stabbing.—Near Rabbittsville, in this county, on Wednesday night last, a difficulty occurred between Ben. Simmons and Lockhart Carlie, in which the latter was severely if not fatally stabbed by the former. Both individuals were intoxicated at the time. Russellville Herald.
